

None had appeared, nor was there any alarm of an epidemic in the house. The house had been occupied by the Becks were located on the family having removed to a house in East Eighty-eighth Street, after the death of Mrs. Beck. It was some time before they were traced to this place by the Health Board, and the result was that the house was now empty. A new tenant is also under the surveillance of the Board of Health, and is as strictly guarded as those houses where cholera has appeared.

The tenants of 311 East Forty-seventh street, where Peter Callahan died under circumstances that have not yet been determined, are confident that the precautions to prevent the spread of the disease in the house are so complete as to leave them no ground for apprehension. A reporter called there this morning and some of the residents in the building said that they did not believe that Callahan had died of cholera, they considered it fortunate that the Health Board regarded his disease as such, as the Board regarded his disease as such, as the tenants put it in a clearer and healthier condition.

The families of those who have been taken away from their respective houses, and none of the children in these houses, is allowed to go outside except on account of business. It may be, it is said, that the local officials will take it upon themselves to stop trains. In that case appliances will have to be used.

SHIPS THAT ARE DUE.

More Than 2,000 Immigrants Expected Within Forty-eight Hours.

Among the ships expected to arrive to-day are the German tank standard from Stettin, from London, the Cunarder Etruria from Liverpool and the Thuringia liner Norge from Copenhagen. There are also two British tramps from Hamburg. They are the Washington City, which sailed Aug. 27, and the Bendix, Aug. 29. Both ran short of coal and were compelled to stop at sea. Another ship, the Adria, another German liner, but since she stopped came in with the report of two dead in the crew, the health authorities are suspicious of all tramp ships and tanks from infected or suspected ports.

We arrived Tuesday, Sept. 1, from Liverpool with 600 steerage passengers; the Herma, from Bremen, with 800, and the Adriatic, from Liverpool, with 850.

APPEALS FROM THE WYOMING.

Statements by Committees of Second Cabin and Steerage Passengers.

OFFICIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.

Quarantine, Sept. 17.—The second cabin and steerage passengers of the Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming, who have been held in quarantine since Sept. 6, have issued the following appeals to the public:

Appeal from the Second Cabin.

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

President Wilson, of the Board of Health, was at his office promptly at 9 o'clock this morning. The first matter to engage his attention was a large bundle of letters—the biggest mail received since the work of combating the cholera in this city was inaugurated.

Dr. Bryant, the medical commissioner, reached the office half an hour late, and immediately went into a conference with his colleague at which the work to be accomplished during the day was outlined.

Just before conferring with Dr. Bryant President Wilson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"The situation is absolutely quiet this morning. There are no new cases of cholera reported in the city, and there are no suspicious cases. I have received a telegram from the manager of the Floating Hospital, that the girl Mary Connelly suffered a relapse during the night, but was again improved this morning. The doctor, however, advised against fighting the spread of the cholera, and we hope that no more cases will occur. The Department of Health has issued a general ban on all meetings and banquets, and the pronounced cases of Asiatic cholera, but so far we have not obtained the desired results."

Cases of Callahan and Hoppe.

GOING TO FIRE ISLAND TO-DAY.

Wyoming's Passengers to Be Transferred by the Steamer Cepheus.

EVENING WORLD.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S. L., Sept. 17.—The Gulden Leeuw steamship Wyoming came out from the fleet of plague ships in the lower bay at 9 o'clock this morning and anchored in mid-stream about one mile below Fort Wadsworth.

Her cabin passengers will be transferred to the Cepheus.

Quarantine, S